Air District staff will be on-hand to answer questions, discuss air quality in the South East San Francisco neighborhoods, and solicit public comments.

The Community Air Risk Evaluation (CARE) program estimates health risks associated with exposure to outdoor toxic air contaminants in the Bay Area and implements programs to reduce emissions and exposure.

The Bay Area 2009 Clean Air Plan will identify control measures to continue to improve air quality and public health. The existing air quality plan will be updated to reduce ground-level ozone, particulate matter, air toxics and greenhouse gases.
